The Beautiful Gulf Coast

Mississippi is a land of romance and interesting history, and she has furnished some famous men who have had spectacular careers. Mississippi was found by old world explorers to have a fine climate and many fascinations. Two centuries ago DeSoto, Joliet, Marquette, Iberville, Bienville and LaSalle had a "vision" of the civilization of Mississippi of to-day. Mississippi has had one hundred years of statehood and she expects to celebrate her Centennial near Gulfport in 1919.

At Gulfport is a railway pier extending one mile into the Mississippi Sound. It gives dockage facilities to foreign vessels and makes the harbor a gateway to the interior of the State, and south to the Panama Canal region. Gulfport is thus famed, together with its land connections along the line of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad for its accessibility from and te all points north, south, east and west.

The city of Gulfport has attractive homes, fine churches and schools, and an aggressive wide-awake people. She has also about her fruit lands and garden spots for the settler from the north. She has in her Great Southern Hotel a fine up-to-date hostelry. Gulfport is on the beautiful Shell road also, that extends for miles along the edge of the Sound. It is a fine breeze one gets at most any day of the year, when aboard that electric line that runs along the very waters edge. The golf links, a few miles east of Gulfport are an attraction on this line; also the Military Academy and beautiful Beauvoir, that was once the home of Jefferson Davis, and which is now a harbor for the Confederate Veterans of the South.

If, while sojourning at Gulfport, you are weary of golfing or boating, why then in the moonlight nights or dark nights you can go searching for "founders"-when the tide is out. It is a picturesque sight to see men and women, who live along the shore who often at night are thus engaged. By the aid of the light of their torches they enjoy this sport. No doubt Gulfport is a coming city of some size! Strangers are cordially welcome either to visit for a time or to add their interest to that of many others who come for the attractions and well-being she offers to all who may wish to share them with her.-Carlyle Porter.

Gulfport is one of the attractive resorts located on the Beautiful Gulf Coast and reached by the superb steel passenger trains of the LOUISVILLE 475 brake horse power, and has no & NASHVILLE RAILBOAD.

LIABILITY FOR AGENT'S ACTS

One Should Ascertain Limit of Responbility Before Delegating Powers, Says Arthur Train.

Most men think they can get along without a lawyer. Arthur Train, the sous author and lawyer, shows in an rticle in the American Magazine how feolish this belief is. He says:

"The most dangerous practice of ormary business, or even of ordinary mestic life, is the employment of an agent or servant without first ascertaining how far you can be made liable for contracts or purchases which he may make. Suppose that you have showed your hired man to buy a lawn mower and grass seed at the corner store, that the storekeeper has called you up on the telephone, and that you have told him that the order was all right. At the end of the month you may perhaps receive a bill for all sorts of implements and supplies which you have never received. Are you liable? Many things which you absolutely forbid your agent to do may yet be with-in what the law calls the 'apparent pe of his authority.'

"In plain language this simply means that, when you employ another to act for you, you are bound by his acts and agreements so long as they are such as a reasonable man, in view of the general nature of his employment, would assume from all the circumstances to be authorized. Obviously, if the shoe is on the other foot, and you have yourself delivered goods to somebody else's foreman, in accordance with regular custom, it would be unfair for the employer to refuse to pay you for the goods on the ground

CHICKENS FOR EMPTY CANS

Trading of Discarded Tine and Bottlee for Food Is Common in Thibet, Explorer Reports.

Bringing with him an extensive colbirds, Roy C. Andrews, head of the Asiatic zoological expedition, has arrived in New York, after a year and a half in the remote provinces of China.

The expedition spent much of the time in the mountains of Yunnan and progressed as far as Thibet. Mr. Andrews' adventures included everything from hunting "blue" tigers to buying chickens at the rate of two for one empty condensed milk can.

Politically China is in a chaotic state, Mr. Andrews reports, as most of the provinces are so far removed from the central government at Peking that any change of authority does not make itself felt. Socially, he declares, It is overrun with bandits, most of cording to Mr. Andrews, there is no great moral difference between a Chinese common soldier and a bandit.

In many places he found traffic by chattering, "but I must be!" water impossible because the army has a habit of using small river boats for target practice.

The expedition found the border of Thibet an ideal place to live in. Food may be bought with old bottles and cans. There are plenty of servants and no rumor of the war has penetrated that far.

MOVIE OF MODERN BOOKWORM

Student Would Not Be Influenced by Any Pleasures the World Could Offer Him.

Now behold the student coming up the street! He is clad in rubber and shining black. He is thin of shank as becomes a scholar. He sags with knowledge. He hungers for wisdom. He comes opposite the book shop. It is but coquetry that his eyes seek the window of the tobacconist. His heart, you may be sure, looks through the buttons at his back.

At last he turns, Charles S. Brooks writes in Yale Review. He pauses on the curb. Now desire has clutched him. He fingles his trousered shillings. He trends the gutter. He squints upon the rack. He lights upon a treasure. He plucks it forth. He is unresolved whether to buy it or to spend the extra shilling on his dinner. Now all you cooks together, to save your business ratile your pans to rouse him! If within these ancient buildings there are onions ready peeledquick !- throw them in the skillet that the whiff may come beneath his nose! Chance trembles and casts its voteecule meenle-down goes the shilling -he has bought the book. Tonight he will spread it beneath his candle. Feet may beat a snare of pleasure on the pavement, glad cries may pipe across the darkness, a fiddle may scratch its invitation-all the rumbling notes of midnight traffic will tap in vain their summons upon his window.

18-Cylinder Engine.

By leaps and bounds the stationary type airplane engines are increasing In power rating in the stern competition betweeen the central powers and the allied nations. In England Louis Contalen has been doing commendable work along these lines, and among his latest products is the 18-cylinder Sun beam-Catalen engine, which develops fewer than half a dozen magnetos and an equal number of carburetors, says the Scientific American. The arrange ment of the cylinders is interesting: Twelve of the cylinders are arranged as in the usual twin-six practice, while the remaining six are arranged in the upper center, forming what is styled the "broad arrow" type.

Too Busy to Help.

A young woman nurse gave up a paying practice and offered her services to her country. She is now nursing "Jackles" in a naval hospital, and, finding how much pleasure the convalescents take m music, she wrote home to her father to put a notice in the local paper asking for records if anyone had duplicates or discards.

It is a place of about 8,000 inhabitants, but not one record did she receive in answer to her appeal.

"Probably they are all too busy with war work," she commented, humor

China le on Guard.

While China has not provided for the internment of Germans and Austrians, even those of military age, all citizens of the central powers are required to register and are forbidden to travel. They may engage in peaceful occupations with China's permission, The mildness of the regulating created some comment among foreigners, but Chinese officials replied to such criticism by saying they closed the German banks and are limiting the activities of Germans and Austrians even more than the United States and Japan are.

Leaves It to Audience.

One of the small Paris theaters has set about proving that dramatic critics are not infallible. Every evening before the rise of the curtain on an adversely criticized but no less success ful play, the trate manager appears, bearing a bundle of newspapers, from which he reads the choicest condemnatory excerpts. Having thus stated the newspaper view of his play, he leaves the rest to the judgment of the audiWilliam Had a Poser.

HARTFORD HERALD Tobacco Fund

Our paper has joined the Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times in this most worthy undertaking.

Approved by Secretaries of War and Navy, the management of this fund buys its tobacco at cost-every contribution of twenty-five cents means forty-five to fifty cents' worth of tobacco for the man out there. No one profits but the fighting man-rents, postage, advertising are all contributed and the soldier who gets your tobacco will send you a postal telling how much it meant to him.

There's no argument here. Just put your name on that blank line and pass along the smokes.

The Human Factors In Good Service

There are three parties to every telephone conversation—the party calling, the trained operator, and the party who answers. All three share alike the responsibility for quick and accurate telephone service.

The calling party should give the correct number in a distinct voice, speaking directly into the transmitter, and wait at the telephone until the party answers or the operator reports. The called party should answer promptly.

Patience on the part of the telephone user and the telephone operator is also essential to good service.
